Investigation Site	Derby Gaol
Investigation Date	9 th April 2005
Report By	Paul Davis
Team Members	Paul, Craig, Darren, Nicky 1, Nicky 2

Vigil 1: Condemned Man's Cell

EMF readings were hard to gauge due to high EMF being all over that place, average temp was 22°C.

To note was Nicky 2 heard scratching noises coming from the upper left corner?

Craig felt his bottom left leg being touched and the bed creaked as though it was being sat on. All of this happened within about 5 minutes of each other approximately half-hour in the vigil of the condemned man's cell.

Vigil 2: Exhibition Room

While we sat down in the exhibition room a trigger object was left on one of the display cases.

There was no activity for the first half-hour of the vigil so decided to do a group séance.

This was the first time I had done a séance so I just said what ever came into my mind.

During the séance I noticed the atmosphere seemed to change somewhat and felt as though something was trying to come through.

01:00 Paul D turned to look behind Darren's back saw a light anomaly shoot past his back.

01:05 Nicky 1 said that she felt something touching/tickling the back of her head.

01:20 A really cold blast went through the room, average temp was 21°C, during that time room temp went down to 15°C.

At the end of our hour checked the trigger object was noted to have moved about 1mm, no one was near it or touched it at all throughout the vigil.

Vigil 3: Debtor's Cell

We sat quietly in the cell for about half-hour, at that time decided to do another group séance to see if we could get anything, during the séance:

03:15 Another temperature drop to 16.2 while average temp was 25°C.

03:18 Nicky 2 and Paul D both saw a light anomaly go between us while doing the séance at the same time.

Craig said that he thought he could see the door opening slightly then closing again.

Noted the atmosphere seemed to change and become more oppressive during the séance and it did feel as though something was trying to come through.

Break Period: Prisoner's Day Room

Nothing was seen or felt while Team 2 was in the prisoner's day room.

General

Overall EMF readings was hard to gauge due to mine and Darren's EMF meters making a load of noise when switched on, esp in the cells. (Maybe power lines as the road is quite nearby)

Still checking Video footage nothing of any importance yet, will inform if I get anything.

Overall a good night with some activity, maybe not as much as I had hoped for but well worth the visit and a good experience.

Also tried the pyramid of paper on a needle experiment with C.J. to try and make it move, had no problems moving it, personally I think that it is to do with static electricity and heat, and also depends on whether you are left or right handed, as I am left handed it moved to the left and Darren tried it who is right handed and it moved to the right.
