Post-Vigil

Bill suggested the light may be coming from the kitchen downstairs. He went down while Steph stayed upstairs and tried various experiments with a torch. These did not match what was seen. He also checked if someone had been sitting in behind the door at the bottom of the stairs. Elaine was sitting there with her camcorder and the LCD screen open. Experiments with this concluded the light from the LCD screen was coming through the crack of the door causing the white glow effect at the top of the stairs.

Camcorder Footage

Small flash of light under table.

Small flash of light to Steve's left.

Flash of light between two tables.
