Team Members Steph, Andy, Adrian

Vigil 1: The Whispering Knights – 21:15 to 22:00

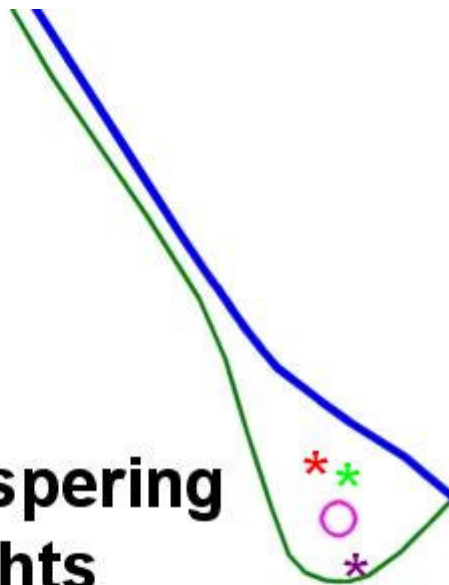

21:17 Stephanie is setting up her camcorder at her vigil point when she gets a strong smell of pipe tobacco. This came in three blasts and from a South Easterly direction.

21:35 Staring at the stones Andy became intensely aware of what felt like an angry emotion coming in his direction from the middle stone. This feeling lasted for approximately ten minutes and during that time he felt or sensed that there was a man standing in the stones area and just in front of the stones where he had sensed anger. He felt he was about five foot with black untidy hair. He also got the feeling the man had had his face pushed or slammed hard into the rock at some point. Andy had placed his sound recorder on the rocks and the batteries went dead after one minute.

21:37 Adrian hears a banging sound to his right towards the entrance path to the stones. These were 4 bangs over a period of 2 minutes.

Stephanie gets a brief sense of being freezing cold, so much it makes her shake. This only lasts around 10 seconds. Deciding to use her Dictaphone she asks out for spirits to make contact. As she starts to ask out her she cannot complete the sentence and she feels as if she has been winded, a shortness of breath follows for roughly 20 seconds before feeling fine again.

Vigil 2: The King Stone – 22:15 to 23:00

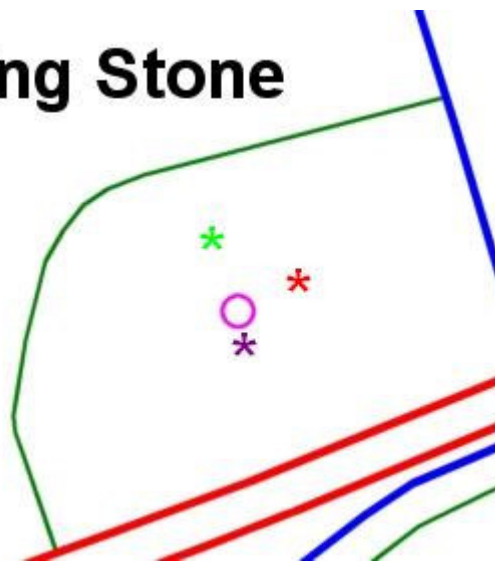

22:39 Stephanie can hear music beats in the distance.

22:40 Stephanie sees the name 'Randall' in her mind.

22:44 Stephanie takes EMF readings around the circumference of the fence around the King Stone with no results.

Nothing happened to Andy at the King Stone except he lost part of his tripod.

Vigil 3 The King's Men – 23:15 to 00:00

23:20 Stephanie is standing in the centre of the circle talking to Andy and Adrian. As she turns to look at Adrian she sees a dark figure behind Adrian to the right near the stones. It seemed to stop dead when she saw it then promptly disappeared.

Investigation Date 28th June 2008

23:27 Stephanie takes a walk around the circle on the inside. As she approaches one of the larger stones she feels a need to stop and touch it. As she does she feels slightly light-headed and has the sensation that she is floating.

23:35 Andy asks Stephanie to conduct an experiment on a particular stone in the circle (see below). As she walks around the stone she smells roses and for some reason knows these are pink.

Not long after arriving and moments after Steph's camera fell over Andy was standing in the circle when he began to feel nausea and light headed. He asked Adrian how he felt and he informed Andy that he felt the same. Andy left the circle and went outside to the field where he began to feel better.

After a few moments, Andy went back into the circle and conducted EMF readings but these showed no spikes. He was then drawn to one particular stone that is the largest stone in the circle. He placed his left hand onto it and shut his eyes trying to keep his mind blank and open to anything. He began to feel sick again and light headed. He took his hand off the stone and looked to my left as he was drawn to a stone standing nearby.

This experiment was repeated with Adrian and Stephanie. Andy went through the experiment with Adrian first then Stephanie, not telling either of them of his experience.

When Adrian touched the stone he felt he was in union with the stone. When he turned to the East he sensed that the stone had some animation to it; as if it was buzzing and felt he became engaged with it. He relates to Andy and Stephanie that when he first arrived on site the stone captured his intention and he felt like it was one that he did not want to go near it.

When Stephanie touched the stone she felt dizzy and had a strange sensation of the stone growing over her hand and up her arm.

Team 1 then conducted a joint experiment of holding hands around this particular stone. Andy felt as if he wanted to go forward into the stone headfirst. Stephanie felt intense pressure in her mind's eye, down her face, shoulder and chest as if she was being pushed backwards. Adrian found it very difficult to breathe, like being suffocated with a pillow.

Andy then suggested that Team 1 try an experiment where they each stood with one hand on the stone.

During this experiment, Andy felt his fingertips and then his hand become warm as far as his wrist. He asked Steph to check my fingers and she said they felt warm. He felt that this stone was the source of energy that flowed around the stone circle. Even when packing up he felt the energy was stronger in the centre of the circle. Adrian has a very strong feeling that the stone was placed on top of a body and this is why he couldn't breathe earlier. Stephanie feels pressure again but this time on the top of her head. Adrian then asks Stephanie to stand where he is standing. Stephanie starts to feel sick. She admits she can breathe normally but has a heavy chest like having a chest infection or blockage. Andy then stands in the same position and does not feel anything but mentions he felt sick again when standing aside whilst Stephanie was touching the stone.

After the experiments Adrian and Stephanie are standing on the East side of the circle. Adrian feels he is being drawn to the stone again and feels the sensation of someone pushing him gently in his back towards the stone. Stephanie asks Adrian if he would like to go back to the stone and Adrian immediately replies 'Yes'. Adrian placed his hand back on the stone while Steph observes. Adrian explains he feels like he is buzzing and asks Steph to hold his hand. He describes the sensation as if he has wasps in his shoes. Adrian asks Stephanie if she can feel the same thing. Stephanie explains she cannot feel anything in her feet but can feel a strong energy coming through Adrian's hand. Adrian asks Stephanie to put her hand on the floor at the base of the stone. Stephanie feels patches on the grass at the base of the stone and relates that the ground appears to have warm spots.

Adrian relates that he still feels like he is buzzing and that his toes are tingling like pins and needles.

00:00 The vigil has ended and Andy conducts the same experiment with members of Team 2 but they did not experience anything.

Post Investigation

Vigil 1 – Andy's Analyses As I had been staring at the rock for a long time I felt it had moved but this was probably my imagination. I am not sure where the feeling of anger or sensing an image came from either, as these could also be my mind playing tricks. Recorder batteries may have already been low.

Vigil 3 – Andy's Analyses I felt sick in the circle and the only natural causes could have been something I had eaten or my ear being blocked. However outside the circle I did not have ANY nausea or light headiness.

Was team 1 affected by the power of suggestive thought? Illusion?
