Pam feels a man with breathing difficulties. Marion has severe chest pains and has difficulty breathing and is freezing cold.

Pam sees bright lines of light on the wall behind Stephanie.

10.40pm (Last 20 mins) Pam senses more on the man with the back injury. She feels he is stabbed in the back. Specific injuries; knife entered the back and was slashed along the back. Feelings of this taking place within the cell. Temperature 13°C.

Pam feels another energy in the cell. A nasty man who is pleased that there is women present. She feels he is perverse probably committed sexual crime against women.

Pam reports having her knees touched.

Temperature at the far side of the cell 9°C. Small opening in window noted.

High EMF reading by Pam's knee area of 5 mg. The reading suddenly falls to 0.

EMF of 3mg recorded under the bench. Previous EMF test in this area provided no readings.

Trigger object was placed on the bench after team members moved to positions away from the bench. This had moved slightly after about 10 minutes of it being set. Marion's camera battery died when trying to take a picture of the moved trigger object. It did work on the fourth attempt.

EMF gives a reading of 5mg in the centre of the room then drops to 0mg.

3.05am Pam feels presence of a quiet man. Stephanie feels a presence that comes and goes in the corner in front of her. A dark figure seen next to Pam that moves towards her. Pam gets the name ‘Aintree’. Pam hears ‘I am pleased’ and ‘Bless you’. Though to be a religious man. The man gives Pam gold coins. She is given the impression that the man was told something in confidence and would not tell. Room Temperature 13°C. Trigger objects corner 11°C.

3.15am Man says to Pam ‘You are all supposed to be here’. Pam hears ‘Reverend’ and ‘Augustine’s’. Neil places more trigger objects (coins) at bottom of the bench.

Stephanie sees blue and white sparkly lights opposite her. Pam is asked by the man to get up off the floor. He holds his hand out to her.

3.25am The man puts coloured crystal or glass into Pam’s hand and tells her ‘For all your wishes’. Pam gets the name ‘Andrews’

Pam feels he was arrested at his church.

Trigger objects (coins) have moved slightly.

Marion relates to team that her drawing is of a man who is religious. She also draws a gold crown that has a starburst shape to it.

Other Activities

Team three also did table tipping experiments. For this Henry joined us. The first was conducted in the corridor near the Prisoner’s Day Room. The table was moving slightly back and forth. Each person round the table took turns in asking out.

We then moved to the Debtor’s Cell to continue. Stephanie filmed the rest of the group. After a short time, Stephanie’s camcorder shut off and would not come back on. No low battery sign had come up on cam screen. Stephanie changed the battery (which was fully charged) this flashed up low battery straight away. Neil took over from filming.

The group then decided to try using an upturned glass. This provided some good information. The group seemed to contact a hangman of the gaol who was forced into doing his job. He was to be executed himself or become the hangman. When asked if he had any guilt for doing this there was no response. Information received – He had one son and one daughter and he was married. His children visit the gaol with him.
