Team 4 Report – 9th April 2005

Team 4 Andy Fazekas, Henry Wharton, Kevin, Tracey

This report is taken from Andy's notes at the time and needs to be included with Tracey's findings to give an overall picture of Team 4.

Museum

10pm investigation begins.

10.55pm team hears the sounds of a chain being pulled through wood coming from the wooden unit Andy is sitting on. Andy thinks he moving slightly or his coat catching the chain could have caused it. Upon inspection this is not the case so although everyone heard the sound the cause is unexplained.

Control Room

No activity for our team.

Condemned Mans cell

Nothing of note

Debtors Cell

11.25pm EMF reading stay at middle reading

11.55pm EMF meter spiking off the scale constantly this is recorded by camcorder (hopefully)

12.15 Camcorder switching itself off

12.20 Kevin and Andy pick up smell of tobacco smoke in one area of cell

12.30 using two different EMF meters they both start spiking on numerous occasions

Other investigations personal notes

Séance – I felt nothing throughout this though when asking for a sign the old wooden door behind me did creak and open slightly. Upon investigation it is suggested this could have been caused by the wind as the passage opens to the outside, however the door is at least two inches thick solid wood ?

Oujia board – opposed as I am to using these I really wanted to talk to someone from history in order to learn more. The glass did move but ever so slowly not like MH lol

I am not sure if anyone was ever there but have no answers to the glass moving either as I am sure it was no one round the table.

Group exercise – still kicking myself over being allowed to look silly

Derek Acorah impression – best forgotten

Overall rating - it was ok maybe expectations were high good to meet Norwich group we can certainly do more investigations with them they are very much like us and we like them.
