22:32 Elaine notices something land in the trees opposite, it then flew to the pylon and it turned out to be a heron.

22:40 Elaine has the impression of two men leaning on a gate. The first man was in his sixties with white curly-hair and a white beard. He was wearing a white shirt and dark waistcoat and was holding a smoking pipe. The second man was in his twenties, clean-shaven, with dark brown hair and wearing a white shirt and braces.

22:48 Elaine measures the temperature as +10.4°C.

22:50 Elaine gets the name Jonathan.

22:58 Throughout the vigil Elaine kept seeing a white figure by the foot of the pylon opposite where she was sitting.

22:59 Elaine measures the temperature as +9.9°C.

Sam has nothing to report on this vigil.

Séance

While walking through the woods Sam had the sense that someone was following her and heard several growls while entering the woods and standing waiting to start the séance and asked Steph and Elaine if they had heard it, which they had not.

As we were standing in the circle Elaine felt like she was being watched and was waiting for something to happen and could feel herself holding Sam's hand tighter. While we were all packing up Elaine has the sense that someone was standing right behind her (Bill was to Elaine's right and Sam to her left).

Post-Investigation

Elaine picked up more on this return investigation, was the weather raining the day/night the victim was found? Elaine's thermometer kept going up and down in Vigil 1: this has never happened before!
