Report By	Marion

Marion wasn't able to get to Aldbury so she tuned in from home.

18:10 Marion is standing in a wood watching a man walk away from her. She sees him from about chest height down. He wears a dark olive/brown shirt and dark brown rough trousers and boots. It must be autumn as the beautiful leaves are on the ground and there is a crunching sound as he walks.

18:55 Marion gets a man lost in his mind, the name Henry and magpies.

19:20 Marion gets One of the mountain men and the song Hands, knees and booms-a-daisy (WWII song).

19:30 Marion gets explorer.

19:31 Marion gets a man unto himself.

19:40 Marion gets wait for me Betty and the reply yes Sam.

19:50 Marion gets a man shouting Save me Mary.

19:58 Marion gets heads and tails, heads and tail, a toss of the coin will decide. She then hears the song On the blue ridge mountains of Virginia on the trail of the lonesome pine (1913) She wonders if this man came from Virginia and used the toss of a coin to decide whether to come or not.

20:20 Marion gets the song Blue suede shoes.

20:35 Marion gets present danger.

21:00 Marion gets Come hear everyone we'll look for him together which concerns a missing little boy who ran away because he wasn't treated well.

21:20 Marion gets the name Mickey.

21:30 Marion gets Bluebird.

22:15 Marion gets cut those trees down.

22:17 Marion gets It's a bum's rush keep them away from me.

22:20 Marion gets the image of a man (front this time) from the waist down. He's wearing loose bleached white rough linen trousers. A thick heavy chain comes round his waist and his hands are shackled in front to this chain which then carries on to the ground. She thinks his feet are bare. He was standing on the grass with tall thin trunked trees dotted around and being led away by someone. The sky is a brilliant blue and it's hot and sunny. The trees are tall and thin with a few branches and a cluster of leaves at the end. She believes this is the same man that wore the brown trousers. Otherwise why would she be shown them in the same way? Neither time did he want to show his face.

22:40 Marion gets George.

22:59 Marion gets happy now.

23:01 Marion gets he didn't do it.

23:08 Marion gets I'm sorry son.

23:29 Marion gets he came from behind.

23:33 Marion gets he died out there.

23:37 Marion gets dandelions on his grave.

23:39 Marion gets she never forgave him and died broken hearted and the name Ann Makepeace.

Marion wonders if this man who showed himself from the waist down came from Virginia and fought in WWI as a Bluebird is a U.S. advanced military trainer, observer and fighter plane of WWI. Maybe he was captured. The disappearance of the little boy is a different story. She thinks she has two time lines here, one from around and after WWI and one from WWII into the fifties.
