Investigation Site	Riseley
Investigation Date	27 th September 2013
Report By	Andrew Fazekas
Team Members	Andy, Marion, Sarah C and Richard (part-time)

General

Weather – wet but not cold. Marion is pleased it's a clear bright night and not too cold.

Pre-Vigil

Marion checked her voice tracer and found the batteries had died although they had been fully charged when she left home.

Vigil 1: Church Lane – 21:25 to 22:00

Sarah sat in her car with windows down for this vigil, as it was situated at the end of the lane. Sarah did not have any particular feelings to note. Andy is sat at the end of an alleyway in between the houses. Marion sat with her back to a prickly hedge with the church further down on her left. She made sure she wasn't touching the branches.

21:24 Andy takes a temperature reading of +12.9°C. Andy also takes an EMF reading and there is no EMF activity.

21:26 Sarah can hear a dog barking.

21:29 Andy is almost run over by a cyclist that has come up the alleyway behind him at a fast pace. The cyclist has no lights and is wearing dark clothing. The cyclist is surprised to see Andy sat at the entrance to the alleyway and cycles off towards Sarah.

Sarah observes a boy come past on his bike.

21:32 Marion feels someone on her left. It feels like someone tall and thin. She gets a quick impression in her mind of a womanly figure dressed in something long and dark blue. It was just an outline with no features being seen. It was a gentle presence but she was feeling uncomfortable and a bit edgy. She was picking up a frightened feeling from this woman who she feels had a fear of someone else.

21:34 Marion gets 'Something jumps/jumped down'.

21:39 A car came by. After this Sarah noted that the lane seemed to become darker and the area felt eerie.

21:40 Marion feels something gently brush the top of her head. It feels like a hand, a woman's gentle touch. She had the impression in her mind of a small hand with the fingers all together. It moved across her head from right to left catching a couple of hairs which pulled sharply. She then felt the hand gently stroke the back of her neck in the same direction. She wasn't caught up on the hedge.

21:42 Sarah and Andy observe a car pull into a nearby driveway on the lane.

21:44 Marion is joined by a lovely little young cat that stays with her till the end of the vigil. It certainly liked being fussed over.

21:45 Andy is joined by a small cat (black and white) that stands in the road and stares at him before moving to the opposite side of the road.

INVESTIGATION REPORT – Team 1

Investigation Site	Riseley
Investigation Date	27th September 2013

21:46 Andy hears what sounds like footsteps coming up the path behind him but no one is there when Andy shines his torch down the pathway. Andy thinks this could have been some sort of wild animal making footstep sounds?

21:50 Sarah observes someone come out of their house and ride a motorcycle away.

Vigil 2: Tom Knocker's Pond – 22.15 to 23.00

Marion is looking forward to this vigil as she didn't get right into the pond last time the group was here. As Marion walked from the farm track through the undergrowth she sees that the pond is very overgrown and the low branches of the trees make a grab for you. The bottom of the pond was a bit too claggy to stand in and had a bit of a damp musty smell. She sits to the right of the big tree (as looking from the track).

Richard stands in the middle of the pond for the vigil. Andy is in bushes at the far end of the pond and Marion is in front of Andy. Sarah is seated behind Marion near to the entrance to the pond.

22:25 Sarah's KII meter was constantly being set off (this continued until 22:55), Sarah noted that it did not seem to be in a pattern made by a phone, and Sarah's phone (on silent) had not set off her KII anywhere near this degree before. This was filmed on Sarah's digital camera. Sarah also saw little flashes against the hedge by the road; this was not when cars were going by. Sarah felt much more on edge than at the lane.

Andy takes a temperature reading of +11.1°C.

22:32 Marion hears a horse snorting/whinnying, a bit of both. It's coming from the other side of the bushes by the field. She knows that the pond was a cattle drinking place but wonders if it also held fish at one time as she can smell fish frying and it really stinks like it's being fried in a bit of rancid old fat. She could smell this right through this vigil and as she can't stand the smell of fish it was giving her a headache. Also she heard the noise of branches being parted in the hedge by the field as if someone was having a look at them. She can hear loud knocks and bangs coming from a factory in the distance and the sound of a gunshot maybe from someone out rabbiting. All this was going on at the same time.

22:37 Andy hears the sound of metal hitting on metal (like clunk clunk) coming from behind him (this is the edge of the pond and only bushes are behind Andy, there are no team members in this area).

Marion hears the words 'Stupid girl-woman' and 'Johnny come lately'.

22:38 Andy feels a cold breeze blow into the area around him.

22:40 Marion hears the chink of glasses over to her right past where Andy is sitting. It sounds like they are being touched in a toast. She wonders if this may be the chink of Hunt stirrup cups but is not sure if they actually touch glasses when drinking.

22:42 Marion gets the words 'I'm afraid'. She asks why and says "Please don't be afraid, come and talk to me".

22:44 Marion hears a sound a metre behind her that sounds like a dog trotting past.

22:45 Andy hears a thud near him from where Marion is sitting.

22:48 Andy hears the sound like a zip fastening (possibly other members nearby).

Riseley

Investigation Date

27th September 2013

22:52 Marion sees a flash of gold-yellow light on the ground diagonally to her left. It's 60 centimetres long and about midway between Sarah and Richard.

22:55 Andy hears something touch his camera bag which is on the floor.

22:57 Andy gets an image of a horse and horse lying on its side.

Marion gets the name Mabel and a slight feeling of someone behind her.

23:00 Marion hears the sound of a panting dog trot past behind her.

During the vigil Richard felt a slight chill on his left shoulder, and felt a bit uneasy. He sensed a black shadow of indefinable shape from behind the trees in Sarah's direction (to her right).

Vigil 3: Eastfields Corner

This was a group walk around investigation. Sarah did not feel or pick up on anything unusual during this time.

Andy did pick up EMF activity in this area along with other members of LPS. However this was eventually debunked when BT cables were discovered in the ground next to the entrance to a nearby farm.

Marion spent most of this vigil walking round the corner area where she felt a frail presence by Dee, Richard and herself whilst the other two were using their KII meters. She also walked up the lane with the group where they had seen a car stop and a man run to his boot opening and closing it. We wanted to see if he had dumped anything there. There wasn't!

Post-Investigation

Nothing paranormal found on Andy's audio or video.
