

Eastfield's Haunting

The haunting at Eastfields Corner involved three people hearing a horse come through a hedgerow, rushing past them on the road towards the other side of the road. They also claimed to have felt the cool breeze as it went past although none of them could see anything.