

Stevington, Chellington and Harrold Investigation

28th January 2005

LPS kicked off the New Year with a triple investigation in January. The society investigated sites at Stevington, Chellington and Harrold. In Stevington LPS members explored St Mary the Virgin Church, which is said to be haunted by a ghostly figure. Orbs were captured on camera in the graveyard and some areas of the church felt particularly eerie.

At our investigation in Chellington, members had the opportunity to walk along a quiet road where phantom horses and a phantom rider have been seen. Once again amazing pictures of orbs were caught on film, but no other paranormal occurrences were reported. Lastly LPS visited the village of Harrold and a welcome opportunity to warm up in a haunted pub before exploring the village. The village is said to be haunted by a ghostly cyclist and a phantom car driver. No sightings were reported and no unusual EMF readings were recorded. Orbs were caught on camera around the village lock up along with LPS member Yvonne
